PROFESSIONAL SYNOPSIS

Knight Center for Journalism in the Americas - Austin, Texas at the University of Texas in Austin

2018 - Present

Academic Program Coordinator - Distance Learning Coordinator

- Oversee various stages of course execution, including original concept, development of content, promotion, enrollment, and evaluations and certificates of participation at the end of the course. Specifically, work with course instructors to organize course content, and serve as their teaching assistant when necessary. Review materials submitted by instructors and provide feedback. Coordinate editing of course materials, such as videos, texts, presentations and other multimedia content. Courses are produced in English, Spanish and Portuguese, and content editing may occur in all three languages. Respond in a timely manner to student questions about upcoming courses, enrollment, technical issues, payments and other inquiries. Send confirmation emails to students who qualify for course certificates and keep a running list of certificate payments. Provide technical support for the distance learning platform, including formatting new courses and uploading content. Work with Knight Center staff to brainstorm new course topics and instructors, along with ideas for improvement.
